Rowland Freedom Center
Daily - 10am - 4pm

American freedom and patriotism are the heartbeat of the Rowland Freedom Center. Its mission is to honor those who defend our freedom, to educate future generations about who we're free and to promote patriotism. Step by step we've engaged schools, military veterans and other military units, ranging from the Revolutionary War to today's special operations. When you visit this historical museum, you'll have the opportunity to see planes such as the 1952 Lockheed Shooting Star, one of the first jet-propelled fighters in California and constructed by 7 teenage boys in San Francisco; the 1935 Kinner Plymote, a low-wing monoplane believed to be the only one still in existence; the 1948 C-53, a helicopter from the Vietnam War and many more inspiring artifacts.
